TOUR REGISTRATION FORM

Tours and events this year include a Saturday evening reception; reduced-price admissions to both the Dallas Holocaust Museum and the George W. Bush Presidential Library and Museum; and a downtown walking tour. You must preregister for every event that you wish to attend because we need solid head counts by the registration deadline (October 13). Thank you in advance for filling out this section of the registration form, which allows us to save money and, in some cases, observe fire marshal regulations. Your ticket(s) will be with your badge(s) at registration.

PLEASE SEE PAGES 35–36 FOR ALL DETAILS

ABOUT THE ASSOCIATION

The Southern Historical Association was organized on November 2, 1934. Its objectives are the promotion of interest and research in southern history, the collection and preservation of the South's historical records, and the encouragement of state and local historical societies in the South. As a secondary purpose, the Southern fosters the teaching and study of all areas of history in the South.

The Southern Historical Association aims to be an inclusive organization. It strives to treat all of its members with dignity and respect and to provide a community that is free from discrimination whether that discrimination is based on race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, pregnancy, marital status, or any other status or classification protected by federal, state or local law.

The Southern maintains two permanent offices: the editorial office of the Journal of Southern History has been located at Rice University since 1959, and the Secretary-Treasurer's office has been located at the University of Georgia since 1980.

Inquiries concerning articles, books, book reviews, advertising in the Journal of Southern History, departmental activities, and professional news and notices should be directed to:

SHA SEXUAL HARASSMENT POLICY

The Southern Historical Association opposes sexual harassment in all aspects of academia. Further, the Association encourages informational activities designed to promote the education of its members and the public regarding sexual harassment and to encourage historians to speak out against such incidents. Simultaneously, the Association deplores efforts to limit academic discourse and free speech on campuses, and it disapproves of the violation of academic freedom and the harassment to which some faculty have been subjected. The Association offers the following Code of Ethics for its members and for the consideration of the larger society.

I. A. Sexual harassment within academe is unethical, unprofessional, and threatening to academic freedom. In the academic context, the term “sexual harassment” may be used to describe a wide range of behaviors. It includes, but is not limited to, the following: sexist remarks or behavior, whether in or out of the classroom; requests for sexual favors; sexual advances, whether sanction free, linked to reward, or accompanied by threat of retaliation; the use of authority to emphasize the sexuality or sexual identity of a student in a manner that prevents or impairs that student’s full enjoyment of educational benefits, climate, or opportunities; and sexual assault. Such behaviors are unacceptable because they are forms of unprofessional conduct that seriously undermine the atmosphere of trust essential to the academic environment.

B. The potential of sexual harassment is not limited to incidents involving members of the profession and students. Sexual harassment of colleagues and staff also is unethical, as is student harassment of other students.

C. It is unprofessional behavior to condone sexual harassment or to disregard complaints of sexual harassment from students, staff, or colleagues. Such actions or inactions allow a sexually hostile environment to exist and are inconsistent with the maintenance of academic freedom.

II. In addition to sexual harassment, amorous relationships that might be appropriate in other circumstances are inappropriate and should be avoided when they occur between members of the profession and any student for whom he or she has a professional responsibility. Implicit in the idea of professionalism is the recognition by those in positions of authority that in their relationships with their students there is always an element of power. It is incumbent upon members of the profession not to abuse, nor seem to abuse the power with which they are entrusted, since relationships between members of the profession and their students are quite imbalanced. Such relationships may have the effect of undermining the atmosphere of trust among students and faculty on which the educational process depends.

III. The Southern Historical Association encourages chairs of departments of history to pass these guidelines on to the members of their departments. It suggests, moreover, that department chairs and historians urge their respective universities and workplaces to enforce existing federal regulations prohibiting sexual harassment and to publicize grievance procedures available to students, faculty, or staff who have been subjected to sexual harassment.

If SHA members encounter problems of sexual harassment, they should refer those problems to the American Historical Association’s Professional Division, located at 400 A Street, S.E., Washington, D.C. 20003-3889. Telephone: 202-544-2422. As the umbrella organization for the history profession, the AHA’s Professional Division has experience in handling sexual harassment complaints. The Division also has legal counsel to guide its work.

GENERAL INFORMATION ABOUT THE MEETING

Headquarters

The Sheraton Dallas will serve as the Southern Historical Association convention headquarters for the Dallas, Texas meeting. All SHA and affiliate sessions will be held on the grounds of the Sheraton Dallas Hotel and, primarily, its Conference Center.

Registration

Registration will be located in the Grand Hall on the Conference Center Ground Floor. Members are urged to preregister using the form in the front of this program. The preregistration fee is $40 for members and $70 for nonmembers, with attending spouses registered for free. Preregistration closes on October 13, 2017. Registration at the meeting will be $60 for members and $85 for nonmembers; attending spouses can register for free. Preregistration and registration at the meeting is $5 for students. Please include name of attending spouse on the registration form. Luncheon tickets ordered in advance should be picked up at the registration desk. A limited number of luncheon tickets can also be purchased on-site at the registration desk.

Access

While all historians are strongly encouraged to register for the meeting and to become members of the Southern Historical Association, we welcome members of the local community to our meeting. All sessions and the exhibit hall are open to the general public at no charge.

Exhibits

Publishers' exhibits will be located in the Grand Hall. No one can be admitted to the exhibit area except during the hours listed on page 27 of this program.

Scheduling Note

Regular program sessions last for two hours. Strict adherence to the schedule is mandatory. SHA Bylaw IV, B provides that "papers or comments must not, under any circumstances, exceed by more than five minutes the time allotted by the Program Committee."

Future SHA Meeting Sites and Dates

2018	November 8–11	Birmingham	Sheraton Birmingham
2019	November 7–10	Louisville	Galt House Hotel

Transportation in and around downtown Dallas

DART trains (<http://www.dart.org/maps/printrailmap.asp>) now cover an appreciable part of the city, and can easily be used to get across downtown or out to Fair Park.

How to catch the train: St. Paul Street Station is located directly behind the Sheraton Hotel. Red, Blue, Green, and Orange lines link there, and a train leaves about every three minutes. Fare is $2.50 for a two hour pass, and $5.00 for an all-day pass, and must be purchased before boarding the train, either at the kiosk in the station, or using a GoPass app from your app store. See their website here: <https://www.dart.org/fares/fares.asp>.

Efrogs (Eco-Friendly Rides On Free Shuttles) (<http://efrogsdallas.net>) is a tip based shuttle service that provides free rides between the Sheraton and Uptown, Downtown, Oaklawn, Deep Ellum, Arts District, West End, and Victory Park areas. Each shuttle can accommodate up to five people. To receive a free shuttle ride from Efrogs, just simply text the addresses of your departure and arrival with a set time to 469-432-4055. The shuttle service is free, but tips for the drivers are greatly appreciated.

Uber and Lyft also both operate in Dallas, along with the standard array of taxi companies.

MEETING HIGHLIGHTS

The Transformation of Texas and Its Effect on the Region and Nation

Opening Night Plenary and Reception

Thursday, November 9, 8:00 PM

Dallas Ballroom C

Those outside the state of Texas still see the state in a caricatured way, despite extensive social, demographic, and political change that has been underway in the recent past, especially in its large urban centers. This panel seeks to explain these changes and assess their impact within the state's borders—as well as perhaps outside, as the South as a whole follows Texas's pattern of growth.

Building Your Academic Brand

Graduate Student Luncheon

Friday, November 10, 11:45 AM

San Antonio B

This year's annual luncheon will seat graduate students with a scholar in an allied field for an intense small-group discussion of academic branding, professional networking, social media management, ways to pitch to publishers, and more. Confirmed scholars include Karen Cox (University of North Carolina, Charlotte), Judith Giesberg (Villanova University), Lesley J. Gordon (University of Alabama), Max Krochmal (Texas Christian University), Megan Kate Nelson (Independent Scholar), Rebecca Sharpless (Texas Christian University), Andrew J. Torget (University of North Texas), James Tuten (Juniata College), and Ben Wright (University of Texas at Dallas). Seating is limited so graduate students will be asked to preregister by emailing a short abstract (150–250 words) detailing their research interests for their faculty discussion leader. The Graduate Student Council will do their best to assign students to groups with similar interests. Participants must be members of the Southern Historical Association and registered for the conference. Preregistration email due by October 13 to shagraduatecouncil@gmail.com.

How Many Committees Do I Have to Be On?

Strategies for Professional Advancement

Workshop Sponsored by the Committee on Women, Gender, and Sexuality

Friday, November 10, 12:00 PM

State Room 4

A discussion about how to manage committee requests and other service components of promotion and tenure, with panelists from a diverse range of institutions and varying experiences with these issues. How should you choose your service commitments? How can you build them if you are interested in administration? The panelists will offer brief remarks; most of the session will be an open discussion. And while the emphasis will be on female faculty, the information presented will be useful to everyone.

MEETING HIGHLIGHTS

My Life with the Journal

Presidential Address and Reception

Friday, November 10, 8:00 PM

Dallas Ballroom C

As editor of the Association's Journal of Southern History for thirty years, John B. Boles had a front-row seat for, and took an active role in the shaping of, the historiography of the American South. In his presidential address, Boles reflects on his professional and personal experiences in "My Life with the Journal."

Historically Black Colleges and Universities: Triumphs, Challenges, and Prospects

Sponsored by the Committee on Minorities

Saturday, November 11, 12:00 PM

State Room 2

Historically black colleges and universities (HBCUs) have been around since the 1830s, but they have rarely been historicized over the longue durée. In this roundtable, panelists discuss the long history of HBCUs while also focusing on the immediate challenges and prospects for the future.

Southern History in the Headlines

A Panel Discussion

Saturday, November 11, 12:00 PM

State Room 4

Southern History in the Headlines is an annual forum that encourages content experts to ruminate on events in the current news cycle that have the potential to deeply shape the future history of the South. This year's panelists will take on such topics as criminal justice reform, health care, and Trumpism in the South. Check the program at <http://www.thesha.org> and your Twitter feed for updates and further details.

The Sixth Floor Museum

Tour and Reception

Saturday, November 11, 7:00–10:00 PM

411 Elm Street, Dallas, TX 75202

The Southern Historical Association and Southern Methodist University invite you to a special reception at the Sixth Floor Museum on Saturday evening, November 11, from 7 to 10 p.m. The museum, located within the former Texas School Book Depository building, is accredited by the American Alliance of Museums, and acts as a partner in Dallas Faces Race and other social and historical causes. Its exhibits explore the life, assassination, and legacy of John Fitzgerald Kennedy within the context of 1960s history and culture. Attendees should pre-register though a few additional tickets may be available at the door. See details on page 36.

SPECIAL EVENTS AND EXCURSIONS

Organized by the Local Arrangements Committee

Thursday, November 9 at 6:00 PM

Deep Ellum is a historic entertainment district with a plethora of restaurants, live music venues, and nightlife. Several of the SHA's local arrangements committee members have agreed to act as guides or you can go on your own. If you'd like to accompany a group, please email Michael Landis at MLANDIS@tarleton.edu. See <http://www.tinyurl.com/shadeepellum> for the self-directed guide.

Sunday, November 12 at 11:15 AM

To get a little bit of everything, plan on going on a Walking Tour: "Exploring the Past in a Modern Downtown" with Michael Hazel, noted local historian. One hundred years ago, Dallas was one of the most vibrant and fast-growing cities in the South. Its downtown was the focus for government, commerce, churches, schools, and cultural life. Although much of its architectural heritage has been lost, a surprising amount remains, often re-purposed for contemporary use. Within a mile of the convention hotel, participants in this walking tour will have an opportunity to learn more about the history of Dallas as they view the ever-changing array of buildings, parks, and streetscapes. This event starts at the registration desk. The event is free, but space is limited. Please indicate your interest using the registration form on page 6.

Sunday, November 12, beginning at 11:45 AM

The George W. Bush Presidential Library and Museum is located on Southern Methodist University's campus, about fifteen minutes north by car. The SHA has made arrangements to purchase vouchers at a reduced price, which you can take advantage of on your own, or by going with the group. Please see the registration page on page 6 to purchase a voucher and/or reserve a seat on the bus.

Sunday, November 12 at 12:00 noon

The Dallas Holocaust Museum is at 211 N. Record Street, a short walk, train ride, or cab ride from the conference hotel. This fall, they will have a special exhibit on loan from The National World War II Museum, "Fighting for the Right to Fight: African American Experiences in World War II." You may attend on your own for a $2 reduction in price—just show your conference badge—or go for half price as part of a group tour after the Sunday morning session. For that tour, J. Todd Moyer (Freedom Flyers: The Tuskegee Airmen of World War II) will act as docent for the WWII exhibit. Please indicate your interest using the registration form on page 6.

SPECIAL EVENTS AND EXCURSIONS

Organized by the Local Arrangements Committee

Saturday, November 11 from 7:00 to 10:00 PM

The Southern Historical Association and Southern Methodist University invite you to a special reception at the Sixth Floor Museum on Saturday evening, November 11, from 7 to 10 PM. The museum, located within the former Texas School Book Depository building, is accredited by the American Alliance of Museums, and acts as a partner in Dallas Faces Race and other social and historical causes. The exhibits explore the life, assassination, and legacy of John Fitzgerald Kennedy within the context of 1960s history and culture.

Attendees must preregister in order to attend, though a few additional tickets may be available at the door. See registration form on page 6.

This is a drop-in event. For those who would like to view the museum's exhibits with a specialist of the topic or era, the SHA will provide a few "gallery tours" beginning at 7:15 PM, and continuing every 15 minutes until (and including) 9:15 p.m. Space is limited to 20 for each of these tours, and will be offered first-come, first-served. You are welcome to tour the museum on your own as well.

On the seventh floor, a reception and a wine/beer bar will be available throughout the evening. The museum will also be open to all attendees throughout the evening (though you must leave food and drink on the seventh floor). The West End is also home to numerous restaurants, as is the downtown area between the conference hotel and the museum. Attendance at the reception should not conflict with Saturday evening dinner plans.

The Sixth Floor Museum is at 411 Elm Street in Dallas's West End, about a 20 minute walk directly across Commerce Street, or you may take the train from the St. Paul Street Station, located directly behind the Sheraton Hotel. Blue, Green, and Orange west bound lines all go to the West End, and a train leaves about every three minutes. Fare is $2.50 for a two hour pass, or $5.00 for an all-day pass, and must be purchased before boarding the train. Efrog shuttles are available throughout downtown and work for tips; attendees may also call a ride-share program or a taxi.

The Southern Historical Association gratefully acknowledges the support of Southern Methodist University and the Center for Presidential History for their generous sponsorship of our Sixth Floor Tour and Reception.

SITES OF INTEREST

The Dallas Sheraton is located in downtown Dallas, within a ten minute walk of both the newly expanded Dallas Arts District to the north and historic Deep Ellum to the east, where Texas blues were born, and which remains one of the best places in town for new music and great tacos. The West End—about a twenty minute walk or five minute train ride—has the Sixth Floor Museum and the Holocaust Museum. Stellar restaurants, craft cocktails, local Tex-Mex diners, and dependable chains are at each of these places and frequently in between.

Deep Ellum (<http://www.tinyurl.com/shadeceillum>). A historic entertainment district, which is about a ten to fifteen minute walk from the hotel. See a detailed Deep Ellum Crawl listing at the link.

Dallas Arts District (<http://www.dallasartsdistrict.org>). The largest contiguous urban arts district in the nation.

Dallas Museum of Art (<http://www.dma.org>). The DMA is FREE except some special exhibits charges, such as the Keir Collection of Islamic Art Gallery (the acquisition of which has made the DMA the third largest repository of Islamic art in the nation).

Nasher Sculpture Center (<http://www.nashersculpturecenter.org>). One of the foremost sculpture collections in the world.

Crow Collection of Asian Art (<http://www.crowcollection.org>). An unexpected hidden jewel of a museum.

Opera enthusiasts may want to purchase tickets to Verdi's "La Traviata" at the Winspear Opera House (<http://www.dallasopera.org>) on November 10 or 12. Both the Dallas Opera and the Winspear are spectacular.

Fans of dance may want to purchase tickets to Cuba's Malpasso at the Dallas City Performance Hall (<http://www.attpac.org>) on November 10 or 11. Again, both the arts organization, Titas, and the venue are terrific.

Food truck aficionados will want to stop by Klyde Warren Park (<http://www.klydewarrenpark.org>) which has a wide variety of cuisine between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. each day, and sometimes into the evening. Depending on programming, you can also find a yoga session, samba lessons, or dog shows.

The Perot Museum of Nature and Science (<http://www.perotmuseum.org>) is amazing. Beyond the Arts District it is about 20 minutes by foot or if you pick up the trolley at Federal and Olive you can take it to the Olive and Colby stop where you will have less than a half mile walk. This museum occasionally sells out though that is unlikely in November. Get tickets online ahead of time.

Blues fans might also want to walk about ten minutes south from the conference hotel on a pilgrimage to 508 Park (<http://www.508park.org>), where Robert Johnson recorded back in 1937. The facility is undergoing restoration, and we hope to arrange a sneak peek (check in at conference registration for more info), but you can always just walk by to pay homage.

HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION

William F. Holmes Award

The William F. Holmes Award will be given to the best paper to be presented at this year's meeting by a graduate student or junior faculty member (anyone who received his or her Ph.D. within the past three years). Send a copy of your paper by email no later than October 1, 2017, to manager@thesha.org. The paper submitted should be the same length and format as will be delivered at the meeting. The winning paper will be announced at the Dallas meeting and its author presented with a $250 cash award.

Call for Papers

Birmingham, AL
November 8 – 11, 2018

The Southern Historical Association is now accepting proposals for individual papers, full sessions, and discussion panels through its website. Please renew your membership or join and then submit proposals at <http://thesha.org/annual-meeting/proposals>. Deadline for proposals is September 15, 2017.

Graduate Student Luncheon

This year's graduate student luncheon will seat graduate students with a scholar in an allied field for an intense small-group discussion of academic branding, professional networking, social media management, ways to pitch to publishers, and more. Seating is limited so graduate students will be asked to preregister by emailing a short abstract (150–250 words) detailing their research interests for their faculty discussion leader. The Graduate Student Council will do their best to assign students to groups with similar interests. Participants must be members of the Southern Historical Association and registered for the conference. Preregistration email due by October 13 to shgraduatecouncil@gmail.com.

The Presidency of Ulysses S. Grant

Charles W. Calhoun

“Calhoun’s new book demonstrates just how important a president this quiet man was. Well researched and well written, this book is a must-read for scholars and others interested in gaining accurate insight into a major American leader.”—John F. Marszalek, Giles Distinguished Professor Emeritus of History and executive director of the Ulysses S. Grant Presidential Library, Mississippi State University

American Presidency Series
720 pages, 24 illustrations, Cloth $39.95

Winner of the Douglas Southall Freeman Award and the Tennessee History Book Award

Grant Invades Tennessee The 1862 Battles for Forts Henry and Donelson

Timothy B. Smith

“The vigorous research and persuasive narrative style of Grant Invades Tennessee proves that Tim Smith remains the go-to historian for the Civil War in western Tennessee.”—Civil War Times

Modern War Studies
526 pages, 30 photographs, 20 maps,
Cloth $34.95

The Election of 1860 “A Campaign Fraught with Consequences”

Michael F. Holt

“Holt’s description and analysis of this exceedingly important election is a valuable addition to the literature of politics, the Civil War, and Abraham Lincoln.”—Michael S. Green, author of Lincoln and the Election of 1860

American Presidential Elections
272 pages, 7 photographs, Cloth $29.95

Inglorious Passages Noncombat Deaths in the American Civil War

Brian Steel Wills

“This is a major contribution to the human element so often overlooked in Civil War history.”—James I. Robertson Jr., editor of A Rebel War Clerk’s Diary

“In this original and exhaustive study, Wills has provided countless examples of the horror of inadvertent death.”
—James M. McPherson, author of The War that Forged a Nation: Why the Civil War Still Matters

Modern War Studies

Civil Rights in Mississippi Series

TRENT BROWN, SERIES EDITOR

As the nation recognizes the fiftieth anniversaries of key events related to the Civil Rights Movement, series editor Trent Brown helps readers rediscover previously out-of-print books written during one of the most tumultuous periods in US history. The Civil Rights in Mississippi Series features books written from the epicenter of the Civil Rights Movement, documenting the struggles many African Americans and civil rights workers faced as they fought for an end to racial discrimination. The series focuses primarily on Mississippi during the 1960s, looking closely at the civil rights efforts of those years as well as important figures and events of the movement.

These books will give important insight into one of the most pivotal social movements in US history as well as a nuanced examination of the South, its culture, and its people. The voices reprinted will illuminate a period which shaped not only the South, but the country, and their rediscovery allows readers to explore this vital moment in history.

HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION

What does the SHA mean to you?

To us, the SHA is a genuine community. We come to the Southern to be professionally and personally renewed; we come to hear new ideas and talk to old friends.

In an era of rising hotel prices and falling travel support...

at a time when our political and intellectual commitments must be backed up by financial commitments...

in a period when the cause of history in and of the South has never been more critical...

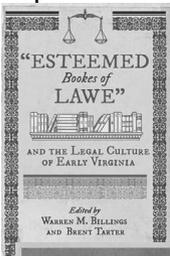

we need your help ensuring that the SHA can continue to thrive and remain uniquely affordable for the next generation....

Consider becoming a Lifetime Sponsor of the association by agreeing to give $1,000 or more to support the organization.
